

European leaders: Protect the poorest

I've just signed ONE's petition asking European leaders to make sure aid is focused on fighting extreme poverty and prioritises the countries and people that have the least. Will you join me?

Aid to the poorest countries in the world is at its lowest level in 10 years with some European countries diverting life-saving aid to cover refugee costs at home.

We know that governments are facing tough funding decisions in the face of a range of international pressures - from the refugee crisis to terrorism. But delving into aid budgets is not the answer.
